Carranza And Son-In-Law Seek Refuge In Mountains

Cannibals, Wearing Tiger's Claw
In Lower Jaw, Attack Explorers

Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice and Mrs. Rice.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Details of an attack upon him and his party by a tribe of mountain savages in the wilds of South America than any other white woman, at Pucallpa, the base for the expedition, which was collecting specimens for the Peabody Museum and finishing mapping the Rio Negro tributaries of the Amazon, the Casuarine canal and the Upper Orinoco.

In the party were Chester A. Ober, twenty-nine, photographer of the expedition; Leo Fuentes, twenty-one, a Venezuelan, seven natives, and Dr. Rice.

He said this tribe is feared by all other tribes of the populous wilderness, and that they were last reported to have been driven away by Indians.

Then they attacked the adventurous

Savadians in about the same spot that they charged upon Dr. Rice and his Indians pointed to a naked figure.

$18,000 In Liquor

CLEVELAND, May 17.—A motor truck loaded with whisky valued at $18,000 was driven away by liquor thieves this morning when Samuel L. Oden, manager of the Samuels Beverage Company, left it while he took a walk.

The truck was loaded with 120 cases of bonded whiskey, intended for medicinal purposes, which Oden was marketing by government permission from the Distillery to a local house in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Movies, Lax Laws And Intemperance Blamed
For Divorce By Church

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—Moving pictures lax laws and intemperance are blamed for the numerous divorces in the United States by the committee of temperance and social service in its report to the Southern Baptist convention today. Enrollment of a uniform code of marriage and divorce laws was recommended as a remedy.

Quoting from government statistics that in the country, the report shows that in 1916, when the last figures were gathered, there were 12,000 divorces.

More later figures available, the report continues, "the picture would doubtless be darker still, certainly this would be true of 1918, owing to the large number of hasty and foolish marriages contracted during the war."

As primary cause of "this sad condition," which is characterized as "an ugly spectre which looms on the horizon of our civilization," the report deems the motion picture as "new terror of New York state, died at his residence, declaring that "nearly every home, Elgin, Illinois, on the Hudson River, on the screen contains some, last night, on the night of his death, the film set on the screen contains some, some suggestion." Many of his films are based on the "terrible triangle" and the suggestion of divorce, if not an open breach of the marital relation.

Lester Parsons Morton was the twenty-second vice president of the United States, the running mate of Benjamin Harrison in 1888. At 71 years of age, he had ended his political life as governor of New York state.

LOUISE GLAUM in THE LONE WOLF'S DAUGHTER

By
Louis Joseph Vance

Combining the famous characters of
"THE LONE WOLF & FALSE FACES"

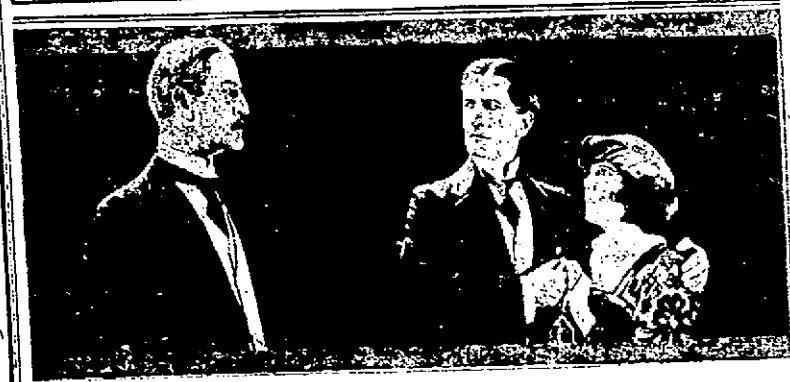

A tremendous drama and melodrama combined; a story embracing the characters, the thrills; the overpowering grip and fascination of "The Lone Wolf" and "False Faces."

The wily, all-knowing, all-seeing Lone Wolf himself.

A crafty, desperate and overwhelmingly ingenious enemy and rival opponents always at each other's throats!

A drama enacted from the interior splendors of Buckingham Palace to the mysterious depths of London's "Limelouse."

Railway Executives Advocate Wage Raise To Many Workers

CHICAGO, May 17.—Wage demands last month in strikes by diversions should be granted to many granted employees. The demands now before the board railroad workers to enable them to meet the high cost of living, the association aggregate more than a billion dollars at $100,000. Arnestin faced charges of railroads being made by $200,000 railroads last year.

"We appreciate fully," Mr. White said, "that the increases received by some employees in the last few years have not been compensated with the increase in the cost of living and that consideration to that fact must be given by the board in determining which of these employees are fairly entitled to an increase to enable them better to meet the burdens resulting from the increased cost of living."

Agreement of the railroads themselves that at least a part of the money should have more money is expected to go far toward expediting early settlement of the controversy which will continue.

We appreciate also that there are other employees who are receiving rates which cannot be considered fair but an absolute wage, yet who do not compare favorably with some railroad workers and similar organizations.

Mr. White said that the existing agreement of the railroads themselves that the railroads earn "more than their cost of doing business" in such departments as maintenance of way and engineering, etc., these expenses for the very necessary services to be given to a line of work unless some rewards are given.

Arnstein Faces Charges Of Contempt

NEW YORK, May 17.—Jules W. Arnstein faces charges of contempt in federal court late today against of railroads declared yesterday, in addition to a billion dollar contempt in federal court late today in its opening statement before advance during the war and a half—the first move in what is expected to meet the high cost of living, the association aggregate more than a billion dollars at $100,000. ### Admits Mexico Is Troublesome Neighor

EL PASO, TEXAS, May 17.—Admitting that Mexico is "a troublesome neighbor" and a plea that the world have a little patience and wait a trifle longer, are contained in a statement to the American people by Salvador Alvarado, provisional minister of finance for the revolution.

The statement, a copy of which was received here today, follows in part:

"The men of good will in Mexico suffer an irrepressible anguish at this time, because we know that the world is tired of our disorders, because we are a troublesome neighbor. We know full well our duty if we wish to be respected like civilized people; we know that we have to protect the lives and property of nationals and foreigners; we know we have to pay our debts, as gentlemen; we know that the difficulties of Mexico affect many parts of the world. That we cannot live behind a Chinese wall, and that due to the softness of means of communication, interdependence of nations is an actual and positive thing, and that no country can act as she herself desires because her act reacts to the confines of this world."

"We also know that if we are not capable of placing at the service of humanity all of the enormous resources that exist in Mexico, the world will come and take them, because it is the inevitable law of progress."

And a new fascinating, beautiful girl—the Lone Wolf's daughter!

A famed crook's daughter redeemed by acts of inconceivable courage and loyalty.

Gowns that, in richness and beauty, will establish the new fashions of the season for millions of women who see this production.

A production even richer in color, in setting and in scenic splendor than J. Parker Read Jr.'s other world-famed Louise Glaum success, "Sahara."

A story of a thousand thrills! A love affair sublimely romantic—settings and costumes sumptuously beautiful—a 100 per cent perfect picture—see it sure.

Historic Bells.

The largest bell ever cast was done in Russia in 1023, and to the intense disappointment of its makers it was cracked in the casting. The bell weighed 125 tons. The earliest record of bells is to be found in Exodus, where they were used as trimming for Aaron's robe at the hem, a golden bell and a pomegranate. The pomegranates were in brilliant colors and the bells tinkled to announce to the people when he came and went from the altar.

Painting.

One Of Most Terrible Tragedies In History Being Enacted In Europe, Red Cross Head Tells Methodists

PENNOINS, IOWA, May 17—Governor of the League of Red Cross societies told the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here today that "one of the most terrible tragedies in the history of the human race is being enacted within the broad belt of territory lying between the Baltic and the Black and Adriatic seas."

In this area are the new Baltic states, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Austria, Hungary, Romania, Montenegro, Albania and Serbia. Mr. Davison asked that congress immediately appropriate not exceeding $10,000,000 for the use of the countries of central and eastern Europe.

He requested that congress call upon the president to appoint a non-political commission of the Americans, distinguished for their character and executive ability, which should proceed at once to survey the conditions in these countries and to allocate materials to them without interference and by decree of its own prerogative.

Suggested for members of the commission are men of the type of Gen. Pershing, Herbert Hoover and former Secretary Franklin K. Lane. He said he had no doubt that the obligation would be repaid and suggested it should run for fifteen years.

He urged also that the United States invite other governments in a position to assist and participate in the undertaking and declared:

"I am confident that our action would be followed by the governments of Great Britain, Holland, of the Scandinavian countries, Spain and Japan and that France and Belgium and Italy, notwithstanding their losses, would help in the best of their ability.

The sum suggested by Mr. Davison for appropriation by congress exceeds the total of all the Red Cross has expended in the war and since it was placed by him at $100,000,000. Compared with the $500,000,000 asked for by Mr. Davison, the Belgian relief fund would be but a drop in the bucket.

Mr. Davison said he was custodian of authoritative reports recording appalling conditions among millions of people living in Eastern Europe. "I believe," he said, "that the apathy and indifference which prevail today are due alone to the fact that American people have not grasped the dreadful facts."

The reports which come to us make it clear that in these war-torn lands civilization has broken down. Men, women and children are dying by thousands and over vast once-civilized areas, there are to be found neither medical appliances nor medical skill sufficient to cope with the devastating plagues."

Summarizing these reports, Mr. Davison said that one of the worst typhus epidemics in the world history now exists among the folks who were threatened with widespread starvation this summer; that typhus, influenza, smallpox or tuberculosis existed in Czechoslovakia, Serbia, Romania and the Ukraine and that there was lack of medicine, soap and physicians

Several Hundred Thousand Cars Tied Up By Congestion On The Country's Railroads

WASHINGTON, May 17—The nation's railroads swamped with business and not yet on their feet after the long period of federal control turned hopefully to the government today for relief.

With reports from industrial centers showing several hundred thousand cars held up at junctions and in transit because of insufficient equipment and labor, the Interstate Commerce Commission, clothed with broad powers under the new railroad law, was expected to freed the backlog of the carriers and take charge of a situation admittedly bad.

Although desperate efforts have been made in the last week to clear up the tangle of freight, railroad officials said there was slight hope of early improvement. The great need at the moment is to clear the tracks of essential shipments, and open the way for the free movement of the necessities of life.

So great is the traffic congestion,

'I COULDN'T GET UP ANY SPEED,' STATES ENGINEER COLLINS

Flu Had Left His Whole System Run Down With Stomach And Nerves In Very Bad Shape.

GAINS 14 POUNDS AND FEELS FINE, NOW

Says Taniac Has Brought Back His Strength And Energy — Can Eat Anything He Wants.

"Although I have just finished my second bottle of Taniac I have actually gained fourteen pounds in weight," declared L. E. Collins, engineer for the Pennsylvania Railroad and who resides at 624 E. Starr St., Columbus, O.

"About a year ago I had such a severe attack of flu that for three weeks I just hung about life and death.

and when I did get up was in an extremely run-down, weakened condition. Then, too, ever since then my stomach has been in bad shape, my appetite very poor and nothing I ate tasted right to me. I was so nervous I could never get a good night's sleep and always got up in the mornings with a really exhausted feeling. I felt tired and worn out all the time, and it was impossible for me to get up any energy or speed. I had lost considerable weight and in fact, I was simply in a bad fix every way. I just had to force myself to work."

"About a month ago Taniac was recommended to me by a friend, and since taking it I don't believe I ever felt better in my life. I have an splendid appetite and everything tastes good to me. I have regained my lost strength, that tired, sluggish feeling is gone. I am full of life and energy and my nerves are in such fine shape I can always get a good night's sleep. Taniac has built up my whole system, and I don't believe it possible for any one to feel any better than I do in every way. I am a firm believer in Taniac from now on, and will always be glad to recommend it to others."

Tanic is sold in Portsmouth by the Lester and Stritch Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town.

Knights Attend Services

Members of Calvary Commandery, Knight Templars, attended the evening service at the First Evangelical church Sunday evening at 7:30, following the usual custom of attending a service on Ascension Day.

The minister, Rev. S. Lichtenmeyer, preached the sermon on the creeding on the subject, "Ascension," taking as his text, Mark 16, 18 and 19: "So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven and sat on the right hand of God."

The Knight Templars, about 100 in number, attended, uniformed, in a body. The church was crowded.

Miss Irma Lichtenmeyer sang beautifully, "The Lord is My Light." The church choir sang "Open The Portal."

He contrasted this with the condition in the United States where he said plenty abundant and asked if the conditions were reversed whether Americans would not proclaim against the heartlessness of Europe.

HUNTINGTON DRUGGIST ARRESTED FOR GIVING SOFT DRINKS AWAY ON SUNDAY

The Huntington Herald Dispatch said arrest; but at that time Mayor Campbell announced that he would not issue another bond in the case and that should Davis again be arrested he would have to spend the night at the police station.

The druggist recently compelled Ivan Davis, prominent Third Avenue druggist to cease operating his soda fountain, though drinks and confections were being dispensed free.

Mr. Davis persisted in his interesting attempt to serve drinks on Sunday despite the observance of the sabbath until he had been twice arrested.

On the occasion of the first arrest he was released on bond in the sum of $200, issued by Mayor C. W. Campbell, at a justice of the peace, ex officio, with W. C. McKellar as surety. Similar surety was given after the second arrest.

At that time Mayor

Campbell announced that he would not issue another bond in the case and that should Davis again be arrested

he would have to spend the night at the police station.

The druggist took the question up with his attorney, H. C. Duncan, of Holt, Duncan and Holt, and was advised to dispense no more drinks.

He followed this advice. A plain clothes officer was stationed at his store for the remainder of the day, ready to make arrest in case of another drink being served, it was said.

The announcement that free drinks would be served at the Imperial Hotel on the day brought the children in swarms as well as a young army of adults. It was estimated that from 1,000 to 1,500 people, including hundreds of children, called at the store

during the day.

Say Men Out In Columbus

IRONTON, O., May 17.—The following statement has been handed to The Intelligencer by the publicity committee of the Russell Yachtmen's Association: The Russell yachtmen have received communications from various points throughout the country which they state, shows that all the men are still out at Columbus and new members are being enrolled. Also it is stated that all men are out at Youngstown, Canton, Cleveland and Chicago. It is said in the Clinton report that 41 out of 47 general managers are willing to settle with the C. Y. A., that the labor board is in closed session, and that a settlement is expected daily.

The Russell Association has also received a report from the San Francisco district which shows that practically all the yachtsmen are not in the California district, as is also the case in reports from Pennsylvania, points and Illinois.

During the past few days the daily meetings of the Russell organization have been addressed by representatives from the various big centers and the publicity committee state that these reports show the yachtsmen standing firm at all points and hopeful that the labor board will shortly recognize the justice of their claims and adjust all differences in a mutually satisfactory way.

DENTISTS HONOR SENATOR TREMPER

At the semi-annual meeting of the Southern Ohio Dental Association Monday in the Tremper cottage on the West Side, Dr. W. D. Tremper, former state senator and one of the city's most highly respected citizens was warmly honored when the dentists from Sedalia, Pike, Adams, and Lawrence counties presented him with solid gold watch chain.

Dr. Tremper celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as a dentist Monday and in commemoration of the happy event he was given the chain. To say that he was both surprised and "charmed" is putting it mildly. The presentation was made by Dr. Howard Williamson, a life long and close friend of Dr. Tremper. After the latter recovered he made a speech of acceptance in which he heartily thanked the donors for the spirit which prompted the gift.

The presentation took place on the lawn in front of the Tremper Cottage and was witnessed by 30 dentists many of whom were visitors and are being royally entertained by Portsmouth dentists.

Following a 6 o'clock dinner tonight a business session will be held at which an election of officer will be held.

LOCAL NEWS

Just how numbers of the Chamber of Commerce voted in the Daylight Saving referendum will be known probably Tuesday, as a committee was busy Monday afternoon counting the 500 votes.

The committee in charge of the work of counting the ballots is composed of Earl T. Purcell, Russell Baker and Will Tritschler. Tritschler is in favor of old time. Mr. Baker now time and these two chose Mr. Purcell as the neutral member of the committee. The committee selected for Monday morning could not get together to do the work, and the counting of the ballots was put off till this (Monday) afternoon, when the committee got down to real work. The committee has a big job on its hands, as many of the members qualified their votes. Just how these votes are to be counted is up to the committee and many are hard to decide.

Father H. A. Clark, pastor of the Holy Family church in Columbus, who dropped dead while reading mass, was well known in Portsmouth. He had visited here and was widely known as a pulpit orator. News of his passing away so suddenly will be received here in Catholic circles with sincere regret.

line and routed a part of the government troops.

More than 2,500 prisoners were taken by the revolutionists, who also captured all of Carranza's artillery and machine guns. It was immediately after this reverse that Carranza dropped from the field of battle and succeeded in reaching the mountains.

The only weapons in the party were a rifle, a shotgun and a revolver, with a limited amount of ammunition. Dr.

He fired a rifle bullet over the head of the savage. Immediately about 200 savages sprang into view.

They were unusually tall and very strongly built and ranged in conplexion from dark brown to fair.

They were armed with spears six and one-half feet long and with bows and arrows. Brandishing these weapons they raised a great howling. Jumping and dancing about, and running continually closer to the little band of explorers.

The latter plainly could see that they were claws in their lower lips.

Dr. Rice and others of his party tried to talk to them in four different dialects of the country—the Barro, the Mayol-Bitear, the Tapi and the Tzun-

—in an effort to make friends. But the wild men kept advancing toward the encamped group, still holding and rolling their eyes.

Shots Repel Them Thrice.

When he felt there was nothing else to do, Dr. Rice gave the order to fire.

Several savages fell at the first volley.

The others dispersed, but within a short time they appeared again, charging toward the explorers. Another volley was fired. More savages dropped.

Again the attackers fell back. They made one more advance. More shots were fired into their matted formation and then they disappeared.

The exploring party hastily broke camp and got into canoes and started toward their base. But for four days and nights, as they paddled downstream, arrows fell about them from concealed banks and threatening shots reached their ears. They were glad to get back.

Dr. Rice, who has many decorations for his explorations in South America, which have occupied him during nineteen years, and have taken him over hundreds of thousands of square miles of hitherto uncapped wilderness, said that the Guatiles are a mountain tribe

shunned and feared by all other natives. Their nearest neighbors are the better laws of the states are described as "absolutely absurd."

An amendment to the constitution to give the federal government control over the matter is suggested, but owing to the time this would require, legislative enactment in the several states is recommended in the meantime.

The report recommends among other things the publishing of the marriage bills for at least 30 days before the rite can be celebrated; physical examination of each party by a physician;

and the establishment of a uniform

code which, as nearly as possible, should come to the basis of Biblical teaching concerning the ground of divorce

all other cases when divorce be granted reached Apizaco, where they were joined by troops commanded by Gen-pushed on, but soon the engineers reported they could go no further because their locomotives were out of water.

The group detailed and pushed on down the road, defeating a force of revolutionists which tried to check their advance. After the track had been cut behind it, means was found to take the presidential train farther toward Vera Cruz and on May 11 it reached San Marcos. Here it was

COURT HOUSE

Demurrer Overruled; Trial June 22

After hearing arguments of counsel, Judge Thomas Monday overruled a demurrer to the indictment in the case of Milda Strong, Cincinnati nurse, charged with misappropriation of funds when superintendent of Henry street hospital.

The demurrer was based on the ground that for the reason "because it is not alleged in the indictment that the Safety Director was either duly elected or appointed, according to law, when proof of such election or appointment is necessary to make out the offense charged."

Attorneys for the state contended that the accused cannot question the appointment of the Safety Director, and the court took the same view in overruling the demurrer.

Attorney Edgar G. Miller appeared in support of the demurrer, which was opposed by Prosecutor Sheppard and Judge E. E. Corn, Ironton, who will assist in the prosecution of the case, which has been assigned for trial on June 22.

Mrs. Rosa Darragh of 929 Third street, Portsmouth, was the guest Sunday of her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. George S. Morgan of Rhodes avenue.

Mrs. John Henry, is ill, suffering with a severe cold at her home on Gallia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hassell and son Raymond Jr., of Eleckta avenue were the guests Sunday of their parents Mr. and Mrs. John Henry of Gallia ave.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Anna Prather to Mr. Harrison Albertson, the ceremony being performed Friday evening by Square Wm. McManes at his home on Rhodes avenue. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lou Prather of 628 Hill street. The groom is the son of Mr. Abraham Albertson of Long Run. He is a splendid young man and has a responsible position at the Whittaker-Glessner plant. Mr. and Mrs. Albertson will make their future home with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bickett of Rhodes avenue.

All members of the Daughters of America are asked to attend tonight this evening as a surprise is in store for all.

Chillicothe Completely Outclassed By Gabe's All Stars

PENNY ANTE

Stalling Off An I. O. U.

Visitors Beaten 21 To 3, Locals Enjoyed Swatfest, Toy With Conley's Men

Shameful profiteering was indulged in by Gabe's All Stars in the matter of base hits and scores in their game with us, we would have been smothered for I never saw a better semi-pro team in my life. Guess we will have to play Waverly and Peketon and forget any intentions we had of playing a series with Portsmouth."

Fans can rest assured that no more teams will be booked for Millbrook Park, Sunday afternoon, which was won by the locals by the proportion of 21 to 3 and tonight have been made 10 to 3 had it not been the All Stars helped to bring the catastrophe to a close by allowing themselves to be caught on bases during the last couple of innings.

A large crowd was out, expecting to see a game worth while. Manager Conley of the Chillicothe All Pros had written owner Gabbleton that he had Dave Schreiber, Frank Friend and Harry Devore signed up for the trip. Conley, it will be recalled, played with Lancaster in the O. K. L. and was looked upon as a player of considerable ability and promise. Manager Conley has called his team the "All Professionals" but the outfit he brought here would run a poor test in the Bay State League and the fans are of the opinion that Manager Conley should hide his face behind the wood pile while some one in authority and noted for his known and left hold on with hollow stare. The visiting team was a hollow joke. Owner Gabbleton deeply regrets the fact that the visiting team made such a showing. It is not his intention to bring other than high-class aggregations to this city. He knows the value of Portsmouth fans and this will be the last time that he will take any one's word for it. Manager Conley stated that he got the best talent in Chillicothe in Bill in Schreiber, Devore and Friend, but he could not have done worse had he picked up grammar school kids who didn't know a base ball from a volley ball.

But even at that the fans had a great afternoon. They enjoyed the high-pitched and had a barrel of fun watching the antics of the visitors. It was a game in which the visitors were completely outclassed and where the fans had a demonstration of the real strength of the All Stars. Manager Conley stated after the game that he had no idea the All Stars were so classy. "That team would have walked home with the pennant in the Ohio State League," said he. "I am I was kidding myself all along that I had recruited a team that would give Portsmouth a battle. Even had Schreiber

A widow Ann Barry and the following children survive: Charles J. of this city, Margaret, L. at home, James J. at Roanoke, Joseph L. of Columbus, Myrme at home and Richard Jr., of Philadelphia.

Mr. Barry enjoyed good health and endeavored to take life easy. In his political views he was a staunch Democrat. He was also a member of Holy Redeemer church.

"Personal liberty," he said, "will be one of the foremost issues in the presidential campaign. Republicans will attempt to 'straddle' by declaring that they are for the constitution of the United States. But the voters won't be fooled. The Democratic party believes that states which voted for total prohibition should have it. Those that don't favor it should not be compelled to accept it."

Mr. Lewis, who has been endorsed by Democrats for vice-president, said that Wilson would be the Democratic candidate for president if the Republicans "insist on making the League of Nations the paramount issue in the campaign."

He added: "They will find that he is not the feeble man they think, but on the contrary will discover that he has the same great intellect and force of character with which they have coped unsuccessfully so long."

"As the campaign goes on, it will become more and more evident that the Democratic party, as always, is making the fight for the public against vested interests and entrenched privilege."

Governor Edwards said: "It's going to San Francisco to exert every possible ounce of pressure I can to get him to place a straight out-and-out wet plank in the Democratic platform."

"You can tell that to anybody who says that I am trying to 'pass' on the liquor issue."

That William Jennings Bryan has got on the nerves of the New Jersey Governor is indicated when any reference is made in his presence to the Committee.

The Cincinnati Enquirer today carried the following dispatch from Columbus on the political situation:

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 16.—Although asserting that it is "non-partisan" and making what are called apologies for its conduct, the official organ of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League again voices its "hostile" over the situation in this state.

Professing keenest opposition to former Mayor Harry L. Davis, of Cleveland, the league admits that "probably some dry Republicans are backing him" and confesses that it is frightened for fear of Democratic success in Ohio, regardless of the national outcome.

The jailbreakers were George Zottman, Will Zottman, Albert Zottman, Attorney Edgar Miller, James Hayes and Sam Wise, friends of the family. Burial in Greenlawn was private.

Mrs. E. Louise Corson Funeral

Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock, the funeral of Mrs. E. Louise Corson, who died Wednesday night, was held from her home, 523 Second street.

Rector E. A. Powell of All Saints church of which the deceased was a faithful member, conducted the last rites, which were largely attended by the many friends of the Corson family.

The pallbearers were George Zottman, Will Zottman, Albert Zottman, Attorney Edgar Miller, James Hayes and Sam Wise, friends of the family.

Burial in Greenlawn was private.

BILLY WHISKERS
by FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy and Nanny did not run away again and they gave up the search for their children with sorrowful hearts. They never forgot or ceased to talk about them and on warm, moonlight nights they would lie out in the pasture and wonder where Day and Night were.

It is a queer thing into a fat matronly looking goat.

One day two strange goats were seen coming down the lane.

"Who can those two handsome visitors be—one so strong and black as jet, and the other equally strong but more slenderly built, with snow white hair?" asked both the old goats at the same time.

The strangers seemed to know the way and appeared to be very much at home, for they walked along until they came to the lowest part of the fence and then, without a moment's hesitation, jumped over it into the meadow and walked straight where Billy was standing chewing grass, as an old man chews tobacco, with his long white beard bobbing up and down and Nanny was lying down beside him.

When the strangers got quite close the white one ran forward crying,

"Mamma, mamma, don't you know me, your own daughter, Day?"

When Nanny heard that voice she was on her feet with a bound, and you can imagine the affecting meeting that occurred between Billy Whiskers and his family on that Thanksgiving day for them all.

(Tomorrow you will hear further adventures of Night.)

WHO'S WHO
In The Days News

ELTON H. HOOKER

Another business man in politics is Elton H. Hooker of New York City, who has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of New York.

"The citizens of this state are entitled to a business-like conduct of their affairs, and should demand nothing less," said Mr. Hooker in announcing his candidacy.

"It is my belief that through the agency of the state, if its affairs are properly managed, there far-reaching and beneficial results may be secured.

"Increased production, both in quality and quantity, on the farm and in the shop.

"Elimination of dangerous radiators by handling over facts relevantly under criminal law and meeting.

"Reduction in the cost of government by cutting out waste without loss of efficiency.

"Development of the state's resources to produce additional wealth over which to spend the tax burden."

Mr. Hooker, who is 40 years old, is president of the Hooker Electrochemical Company, which he started in a small way and has developed into a corporation doing an annual business of more than $7,000,000. He was born in Rochester and worked his way through the University of Rochester and Cornell University.

Appointed deputy state superintendent of public works when Theodore Roosevelt was governor, a lasting friendship was formed between the ex-president and his deputy. In 1912 Mr. Hooker was treasurer of the Progressive national campaign committee.

He was to have been a major in the "Roosevelt Division," which the war department declined to authorize.

Jack is to come down to Hope Hamlet one day, and the rest of the time we shall be to ourselves.

Went to an exhibition of Marsden Hartley's at The Daniel's Gallery today and enjoyed myself thoroughly.

Saw an old acquaintance of mine there, Morgan Travers, who begged me to come down and pose for him one afternoon.

Of course I did not promise to do so, for it requires a considerable amount of deliberation—but I may.

He is a dear boy and clever. After all, there is no harm in posing, and it does help a fellow artist out.

Had a romantic collision with a very handsome and unknown man later on in the afternoon. Fate threw us into each other's arms, literally speaking! I got on a bus at Fifty-third street, and as it started up with me clinging valiantly to the railing, and my foot on the fourth step from the ground, it gave a sudden lurch and I went backwards, right into the steady arms of a tall, tanned stranger. He acted nobly, under the circumstances, for I knew that he was just dying to laugh, but for my sake kept his face straight. It was one of those occasions when there's just no use to be hungry. I was placed in an embarrassing position, so the only thing to do was to grin. I did same. So did said handsome stranger.

I staggered up the steps again, and he was forced to share my seat, for all other places were filled. Then we looked at each other and broke into fits of laughter. We rode uptown together, and I discovered that he was no Australian, but short time in this country.

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. MCINTIRE

NEW YORK, May 17.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys.

Out early and a-horseback, the first time in a year, and joined fully and a young woman on a skitish mare was thong, which unseated me. My wife takes it mighty ill about my setting the ink on the new table pieces and we are not very good friends.

Breakfasted alone. Comes Eddie

Palo the cinema player, and he had a cane with a feather strap for the wrist, a mighty conceit. Through the town and to the zoöphiles where I spent some time, resting fifteen shillings, and then to Mr. Schatz, my tailor, to have my new checked suit fitted. And I did consult about ordering my clothes against next winter.

This day I saw Markham, the poet, whom I never saw before. Launched in Thirty-fourth street on a bare pike and a salad with cheese dressing and caviar. J. Ali-on, the pamphleteer, who spoke cheerfully of the new imprac-ticalities and additions he hath made in his cellar.

Home, where I fell to reading a

South sea tale of a high-born gentleman who became a savage, chewing beetle nuts, wearing a hoop of hair and it being a true rattle. I sickened at the revelation he made to a visit for that he would buy his daughter to eat.

All the evening putting my winter clothes away and my wife, poor wretch, still very silent and I appeared cheerful by singing, which perched for some time. Then she craned her neck and looked at the sky.

"Mister," she said sternly, tapping him on the shoulder, "you just lead to your driving. It don't look like rain

now, but if it should I'll let you know."

Voted For Goo

According to the Atchison Globe, a venerable darky called on the mayor of Atchison recently, identifying him himself as "de Rev. Dr. Pinheas Jones, and I wants some wine for sacrificial purposes. And de congregration took a vote on its preferences last Sunday, and Vigil is all unanimous for 'em."

All New York dogs must be executed and buried when on the streets.
A failure means a summons to court.
There is a moving picture dog who lives in the California studios. The dog is gentle and when he takes him out to walk he is the safest dog and the easiest to execute. A policeman for not participating in the dog fight was arrested.
You will have to arrest me," said the actor—who perhaps saw a fast pay story. "I won't muzzle that dog. He is my friend. Well, I'll have to take him to court," the officer said.
"Go ahead," was the reply. But when the officer approached the dog, the animal crouched and snarled, and after scratching his head several times, he forgot to unmuzzle the dog.

NOT SEEKING GRAVEYARD

THE uncertainty hanging about the presidential nominations gives fair opportunity to the fellows, who like to be the first to be "the original" proponent to advance some fearful and wonderful tickets.

The most unique is that suggested by a Washington correspondent of labor paper, who claims that the popular ticket on the Democratic side would be McAdoo and Cox.

The latter, of course, is the governor of Ohio. Nothing could be so far from the possible as he in the vice presidential chair. This seat is the graveyard of political hope and only such an original character as the present incumbent, Thomas Marshall can make his incumbency thereof a definite quality, and even he is not able to receive that recognition which his ability entitles him to. James M. Cox, with his restless energy, his intense desire to do something would find himself as out of place in its habitual somnolence as a race horse harnessed to a treadmill.

True enough, McAdoo and Cox would make a combination of some speed, but the trouble would be to get the latter on the track in the place assigned.

WELL, DID YOU EVER?

Ave us, Uncle Sam, or we perish!" Could you ever imagine such a cry as that coming from the railroads?

Well, no matter whether you could or not, it is coming, coming frantically from the railroads to the government.

The association of railway executives and the American railroad association has appealed to the interstate commerce commission to take over the roads, not waiting upon vexations and fatal legal formalities, but instanter, in order that they may be saved from wreckage and the general business of the country from going to smash, employ the same methods as were used in war times.

Now, that is astonishing, nay, even astounding, considering what we have heard from the worthy gentlemen who comprise the applicants, and also what we haven't heard—not in print—from the same source.

But it is the same old situation. The railways are jammed and they can't pull themselves out, principally because every fellow is pulling for his line and the general good isn't thought of. An incident is that so much freight is being offered that there isn't either time or opportunity. Anything that will travel on wheels has to be utilized, which the same is a bad policy and delay because the collapse of one car often delays whole trains and sometimes systems for hours.

Yes, it is a stunning confessing, but there is no use moralizing over it. The government management did introduce a good many improvements in both railway management and railway operation, at the same time making it clear enough that ownership and perpetual operation by it was neither desirable from the point of efficiency, nor approvable from the point of efficiency.

The plea of the railroad people shows just one thing, that we need laws to regulate railroads and enforcement thereof, with the accent on the enforcement.

AMERICA raises more tobacco than any other country. America consumes more tobacco than any other country.

America exports more tobacco than any other country. America imports more tobacco than any other country.

The two first facts are not inconsistent, the next two seem to be contra-wise. Explanation for them is found in the fact certain grades of tobacco, used in the manufacture of higher priced cigars and cigarettes can not be successfully grown herein.

Baptists do not claim that tobacco was exceptionally indigent to America, but it is an indisputable fact that the Indians were the original smokers. That is queer and it is also inexplicable in the fact that the habit of smoking so soon spread over the world and several of the European and Asiatic nations became more addicted to the weed than its discoverers or those who came to subdue and exterminate them. Americans, of a truth, do consume the most tobacco, but that is not because they are so inveterate in their habit, but because there are more of them. As a rule, they are not to be compared as average consumers with Germans, Spaniards, Italians or Turks.

MARNE, May 17.—(By The Associated Press)—The French troops which have been in occupation of Frankfurt, Darmstadt and other cities on the east bank of the Rhine evacuated those cities this morning, it is announced.

The Germans were informed of the departure of the occupying forces through a laconic proclamation issued by General De Goutte, posted in the various cities, which read:

The evacuation proceeded in an orderly way and amid entire quiet.

Movies, Lax Laws And Intemperance Blamed For Divorce By Church

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—(By the Associated Press)—The motion picture as now produced, deriding that "nearly every film put on the screen contains some sordid suggestion," many of the films are based on the "eternal triangle" and the suggestion of discord if not an open breach of the marital tie, was recommended as a remedy.

Several Hundred Thousand Cars Tied Up By Congestion On The Country's Railroads

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The nation's railroads swamped with business and not yet on their feet after the long period of federal control turned hopefully to the government today for relief.

With reports from industrial centers showing several hundred thousand cars held up at junctions and in transit because of insufficient equipment and labor, the interstate commerce commission, clothed with broad power under the new railroad law, was expected to head the appeal of the carriers and take charge of a situation admittedly bad.

Although desperate efforts have been made in the last week to clear up the tangle of freight railroad officials said there was slight hope of early improvement. The great need at the moment is to clear the tracks of non-essential shipments, and open the way for the free movement of the needs

Former Vice President Dies

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 17.—Levi P. Morton, former vice president of the United States, and former governor of New York state, died at his home, Ellsworth, Rhinebeck-on-the-Hudson, last night, on the thirty-sixth anniversary of his birth.

Levi Parsons Morton was the twenty-second vice president of the United States, the running mate of Benjamin Harrison in 1888. At 71 years of age he rounded out his political life as governor of New York state.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 17.—Prices showed little change at the quiet opening of today's stock market. Developments over the weekend and the probability of several important decisions by the United States supreme court in the course of the day prompted further caution in trading circles. The usual leaders moved within a narrow area, petroleum and food stocks being the only issue to vary more than fractionally. Mexican oils were firm on latest news from that country, but an active selling movement ensued within the first half hour, cancelling all gains.

Should the commission find on the strength of reports laid before it by the railway executives that the emergency justifies it, orders taking virtually complete control of the movement of freight probably will be issued today. The first step would be issuance of priority orders for shipment of coal, for which there is a critical shortage at many points, food and meat.

The use of cars would be limited to these commodities but railroad men said they were most concerned with the problem of moving and unloading upwards of 200,000 cars that have caused the congestion.

The possibility of curtailing passenger service has been considered by the roads so as to expedite freight moves but officials said this would be done only as a last resort.

3. Reduction in the cost of government by cutting out waste without loss of efficiency.

4. Development of the state's resources to produce additional wealth over which to spread the tax burden.

Mr. Hooker, who is 50 years old, president of the Hooker Electrical Company, which he started in a small way and has developed into a corporation doing an annual business of more than $7,000,000. He was born in Rochester and worked his way through the University of Rochester and Cornell University.

Appointed deputy state superintendent of public works when Theodore Roosevelt was governor, a lasting friendship was formed between Mr. Roosevelt and his deputy. In 1912 Mr. Hooker was treasurer of the Progressive national campaign committee. He was to have been a major in a Roosevelt Division, which the war department declined to authorize.

Went to an exhibition of Mansfield Hartley's at The Daniels' gallery to day and enjoyed myself thoroughly. Saw an old acquaintance of mine there, Morgan Travers, who begged me to come down and pose for him one afternoon. Of course I did not promise to do so, for it requires considerable amount of deliberation—but I consider it.

Fancy anyone taking Aunt Cecilia seriously as a clairvoyant. Why, Alice just welcome addition to the happy party, which is not what can be truth.

Jack is to come down to Hope Haven tomorrow, and the rest of the time we shall be to ourselves.

Had a romantic collision with a very handsome and unknown man later on in the afternoon. Pulled themselves into each other's arms, literally speaking! I got on a bus at Fifty-third street, and as it started up with me clinging valiantly to the railing, and my foot on the fourth step from the ground, it gave a sudden lurch and I went backwards, right into the steaming arms of a tall, tanned stranger. He acted nobly, under the circumstances, for I knew that he was just dying to laugh, but for my sake kept his face straight. It was one of those occasions when there's just no use to be haughty. I was placed in an embarrassing position, so the only thing to do was to grin. I did same. So did said handsome stranger.

I staggered up the steps again, and he was forced to share my seat, for all other places were filled. Then we talked at each other and broke into fits of laughter. We rode up town together, and I discovered that he was an Australian, but a short time in this country.

A soldier from the front applied to the hotel for a job as cook.

"What can you cook?" asked the hotel man.

"Anything, sir," was the reply.

New-York - Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTIRE

NEW YORK, May 17.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys sitting on a bench in a downtown park early and afternoons, the first Machinist park the other day when I saw him for the first time, and jolted him, and a crowd of couples sat upon him just now. "Well, how do you like hash?" "You don't make it, sir," said the soldier. "It just accumulates," I said. Home Journal.

His Ambition

Oliver Herford sat next to a soulful wife at dinner one night, and that day turned her sad eyes upon him. "Have you no other ambition,

Mr. Herford," she demanded, "than to make people to degrade themselves by Yours?" Herford had an ambition—a whole of an ambition. Some day he hoped to clarify it.

The woman rested her elbows on the table and propped her face in her long dark hair and glowed into Mr. Herford's eyes. "Oh, Mr. Herford," she said, "will you tell me about it?"

"I want to throw an egg into an electric fan," said Herford.

Her Goal

Alice is an eighteen-year-old youngster from the southern part of the state and her mother recently brought her to the capital to see the monuments and other places of interest. The morning after his arrival he took her down to the office of a friend and introduced her aboard.

"So you came to see Indianapolis," remarked one of the men. "I suppose you anxious to begin. Which do you want most to see—the state house or the monument?"

Alice looked at him and then spoke truthfully. "Oh, I want to see both of them," she told him, "but most of all I want to go to one of these stores

where you get an ice cream sandwich

for a nickel."

Why He Did It

A salesman was showing an elderly

Miss Mae Birch

One of the city's best known public school teachers, Miss Mae Birch, answered the final summons Saturday at her home, 803 Harvard Place, death coming after a two weeks' illness of paralysis.

Miss Birch had been in a serious condition for several days and Saturday morning layed into an unconscious state. She remained unconscious from then until the end last evening at 7:15 o'clock.

The deceased was well known throughout the city as she had been a teacher in the local schools for 15 years. News of her passing away will bring genuine sorrow to many who had become her friends.

Two weeks ago Saturday, Miss Birch suffered a slight stroke of paralysis and on Thursday, May 5 while at school suffered her second attack. Her entire left side was affected and she remained in a dangerous condition for several days. She rallied for several days and appeared much better until last Thursday when a change for the worse was noted.

Miss Birch was a favorite with her pupils and the many teachers with whom she was associated in the different schools. She was teaching in the fifth grade at Union street building when stricken.
